Talk about the power of attraction!

When Olive and Olive opened doors in 1957, it was a solo practice run by B.B. Olive – a remarkably dynamic, energetic and visionary attorney who opened the first private patent practice in Durham NC.

Top talent was quickly drawn to this exemplary individual, each of whom brought to the firm the same tenacity, work ethic and commitment to excellence as its founder.

That's the way it was in 1957, and that's the way it is today. We look for the best in people, and we expect the best out of our people.

Are you one of the best?

We practice one area of law: Intellectual Property. To our clients, we bring the sound advice and high-quality representation that come from decades of knowledge and experience. Turnover is limited. Therefore, personnel needs are limited.

But if you have experience in intellectual property, if you are driven by challenges, if personal initiative is second nature, and if you have a desire to help great clients, this might be your place.

Want to become part of a team of IP excellence? Mail your resume with cover letter and writing samples to careers@oliveandolive.com. Unsolicited applications may not receive a response.
