Vedia Jones-Richardson is a principal with Olive & Olive and heads our trademark, copyright and transactional group. She is nationally recognized as an authority in the field of technology, computer, and internet law. She is certified by the North Carolina State Bar as a Trademark Law Specialist.

Vedia has an undergraduate degree in design and a background that includes years in television, advertising and software development. This gives her an approach to IP law that is creative, insightful and keenly attuned to practical business solutions.

Prior to joining Olive & Olive, Vedia worked for leading law firms in New York and served as in-house counsel for a major consumer products company in Chicago. There, she handled corporate, marketing, promotions, and product liability law, as well as IP matters, both transactional and litigation. She has also been a writer, graphic designer, and a consultant for software development.

Her breadth of experience in various industries – combined with her immersion in real-world business challenges – adds up to a unique skillset that she puts to work in helping our clients achieve their goals.
